Job Summary

Reporting to the Associate Provost and Vice President for University Outreach, the Director of Outreach Global is responsible for facilitating short-term education, service learning programs, training and development with foreign universities, governmental agencies, nonprofits, and other external agencies to advance the engagement of Auburn University faculty, staff, and students across the globe. Outreach Global promotes global engagement by building strategic, collaborative relationships between academic and nonacademic institutions.

Essential Functions

1. Develops and implements new service learning programs, training programs, educational and cultural tours by collaborating with both Auburn University and global partners. Identifies new global academic and non-academic institutions by communicating with potential partners through emails, conferences, and established personal and professional networks.
2. Develops short-term programs for students, faculty, staff, alumni, and other non-academic groups who cannot travel overseas for study abroad programs or other programs to offer brief research and outreach activities. Develops and implements Memorandum of Understanding (MOU). Assists colleges with their respective global outreach programs.
3. Oversees the overall operations of Outreach Global to provide strategic leadership and vision for the office. Responsible for the office budget and financial operations. Searches for funding opportunities through nonprofit organizations.
4. Manages Outreach Global staff and leads recruitment of positions including reviewing resumes, participating in interviews, and conducting performance review evaluations. Assists in resolving employee relations issues.
5. Collaborates with Auburn University colleges, schools, departments, and other global outreach programs on campus. Leads and supports multicultural activities and enhances global learning programs through academic curriculum, lecture series, presentations, and active involvement. Develops global curriculum.
6. Coordinates major Outreach Global Office scholar exchanges and visitations such as faculty development programs, training programs, and reciprocal visitations for international partners. Facilitates all global travel logistics such as meetings, accommodations, local transportation, and other related activities.
7. Serves on Outreach Planning Committee, Faculty Engagement Council, Outreach Diversity and Inclusion Committee, and others. Engages with national organizations and associations representing Auburn University Global Outreach.

Supervisory Responsibility

Full supervisory responsibility for other employees is a major responsibility and includes training, evaluating, and making or recommending pay, promotion or other employment decisions.
