

Faculty Feedback from COACHE 2013-14

Faculty response identified QUALITY OF COLLEAGUES as the best aspect about working at Auburn.

89% of faculty are satisfied with influence they have over the focus of their research, scholarly, or creative work.

74% of faculty agree that their department is collegial.

89% of faculty are satisfied with discretion over their course content.

88%

of Auburn faculty would recommend their department as a place to work if asked by a candidate for a faculty position at their rank.

65% of faculty are satisfied with their department as a place to work.

67% of faculty are satisfied with Auburn University as a place to work.

77% of faculty are satisfied with the intellectual vitality of pre-tenure faculty in their department.

Faculty indicate they need more support for these areas.

Areas for Improvement

Spousal/partner hiring & flexible workload/modified duties

Campus childcare

Enhanced training for department heads & chairs

Enhanced support to sustain increased research productivity

Increased support for academic careers of women