SPRING/SUMMER COMMENCEMENT

CONGRATULATIONS

To the Class of 2020,

Today marks a great accomplishment in your lives. You and your families have invested a great deal to make your graduation a reality. This is a truly remarkable achievement.

As you make plans toward beginning your career, I sincerely urge you to reap the benefits that come with attaining one of the finest educations available. Earning a college degree does not signal the end of the learning experience. Continue asking questions throughout life and never stop learning.

During your time here, you lived an Auburn experience that was all your own. Those memories of Auburn will become more treasured as the years pass. Wherever you go in life, a part of this great university goes with you. While you are not alone in earning an Auburn degree today, I gladly remind you that you are, and will always be, a member of the Auburn Family.

Congratulations and War Eagle!

ALMA MATER AND NATIONAL ANTHEM

ALMA MATER

On the rolling plains of Dixie
'Neath the sun kissed sky
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
Banners high.

To thy name we'll sing thy praise
From hearts that love so true
And pledge to thee our loyalty
The ages through.

We hail thee, Auburn, and we vow
To work for thy just fame,
And hold in memory as we do now
Thy cherished name.

Composed by Bill Wood, 1924
Word Revision, Emma O'Rear Foy, 1960

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

O say can you see,
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed
at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
that our flag was still there.
O say does that star-spangled
banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free
and the home of the brave?

Music by John Stafford Smith, 1780
Lyrics by Francis Scott Key, 1814
Adopted as the national anthem of the United States, 1931

Dr. Harold A. FRANKLIN

On January 4, 1964, Harold A. Franklin became the first African American student to attend Auburn University. His admission followed a lengthy legal dispute as university and state officials coordinated efforts to prevent Franklin's enrollment because of his skin color.

Dr. Franklin is a native of Talladega, Alabama. As a child, he dreamt of becoming an attorney and following in the footsteps of famed civil rights lawyer Thurgood Marshall. After honorably serving in the Air Force, Franklin enrolled at Alabama State University, wherein 1962, he graduated with honors earning a BA in Government and Psychology. Later that year,

Franklin's application for admission to Auburn University was denied due to his skin color. Several months later, a federal judge ordered Auburn University to admit Franklin. On January 4, 1964, Franklin registered for classes.

Unfortunately, Franklin's experience as Auburn's first black student proved frustrating. The university housed Franklin in a dormitory removed from other students. Most students ignored Franklin. The Department of History faculty resisted his enrollment. Several years later, as Franklin attempted to complete his MA Thesis, his faculty advisers did everything possible to discourage his efforts. Ultimately, Franklin withdrew from Auburn University, convinced that he would never graduate.

Franklin subsequently enrolled at the University of Denver, where he earned a MA degree in International Studies. After returning to Alabama, Franklin began a long influential career as a college educator at Alabama State University, Tuskegee University, and Talladega College. Franklin's passion for teaching and courage has inspired multiple generations of African American students to follow in his footsteps. On February 16, 2020, Franklin returned to Auburn University and successfully defended his MA Thesis, a history of Alabama State University. Today, in addition to celebrating the completion of his Master's degree, Franklin challenges us to continue building a more inclusive Auburn University.

I believe in the human touch, which cultivates sympathy with my fellow men and mutual helpfulness and brings happiness for all.

The EAGLES, Education to Accomplish Growth in Life Experiences for Success, initiative is a comprehensive transition program for students with intellectual disabilities housed in the Auburn University College of Education Department of Special Education, Rehabilitation, and Counseling. Students engage in a two or four-year campus experience that provides post-secondary education opportunities and prepares students to become contributing members of society. The non-degreed program focuses on academic enrichment, personal and social skills, independence and integrated work experiences.

EAGLES students participate in university classes, on-campus jobs, volunteer experiences and on-campus collaborations during their time at Auburn. The EAGLES are assisted around campus by Auburn student mentors who are members of the WINGS, Warm-Hearted Individuals Nurturing Great Success program. WINGS peer mentors reside with EAGLES students, support independent living skills, participate in activities with EAGLES students, provide opportunity for connections to other students and support EAGLES in social and community environments.

Students in the EAGLES program learn how to live the Auburn Creed as they prepare for life now and in the future.

"My sisters, parents, grandparents, and great-grandfathers all went to Auburn and I wanted to go too. The EAGLES program gave me the chance to go to Auburn and be in the Auburn Family. I have learned to live independently and have learned job skills for when I graduate. The best part of going to Auburn is making friends and hanging out with them."

-Bradley Basden

"This experience has been the best thing ever. Being the first to be in the EAGLES program meant I was ready to show new EAGLES what it was like to be an Auburn student. What an honor it is to be at Auburn University. War Eagle!"

-Josh Greiner

"It's always been my dream to attend Auburn University. My grandfather, father, and sisters attended Auburn. My dreams came true as I stepped into my Auburn family's footsteps, and being a part of the Auburn family means the whole world to me!"

-Anna Moates

AUBURN UNIVERSITY – THE HISTORIC HOME OF THE AUBURN FAMILY

Chartered in 1856, Auburn University opened in 1859 and became affiliated with the Methodist Church. Throughout the years, the institution has held four official names:

- East Alabama Male College (1856-72)
- Agricultural and Mechanical College (1872-99)
- Alabama Polytechnic Institute (1899-1960)
- Auburn University (1960-present)

Auburn University at Montgomery (AUM) was established as a separately administered branch campus in 1967. The institution has developed rapidly, especially since moving to a 500-acre campus east of Montgomery in 1971. Fall 2019 enrollment at AUM was approximately 5,323.

EMERGENCY PROCEDURES DURING THE CEREMONY

BUILDING EVACUATION

In case of an evacuation, please exit the building through the nearest marked exit door in an orderly and calm fashion. Please be considerate of any persons with disabilities and follow any instructions given by public safety officials.

The ceremony will continue after an "ALL CLEAR" order has been given by public safety officials. Additional announcements will be given as more information is received.

SEVERE WEATHER

Stadium: In the event of severe weather, please exit your seat in an orderly and calm fashion and make your way into the concourse areas. Follow the directions given by public safety officials. Do not leave the stadium until an announcement is made that it is safe to do so. Please be considerate of any persons with disabilities.

Arena: Please remain seated. For those of you located on the mezzanine level, please exit your seats in an orderly and calm fashion, and make your way down to the lower-level concourse area. Graduates, please move to the lower concourse area as well. Follow the directions given by public safety officials. Do not leave the arena until an announcement is made that it is safe to do so. Please be considerate of any children and persons with disabilities. The ceremony will continue after we have been given an "ALL CLEAR" order by emergency personnel. Additional announcements will be given as more information is received.

AUBURN
UNIVERSITY

Auburn University is an equal opportunity educational institution/employer.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia worn during graduation is based on attire from the 12th and 13th centuries when universities were being established. Academic dress and accoutrements have been used in higher education in the United States since colonial times. In 1895, an intercollegiate commission adopted a standardized code for the use of academic gowns, hoods, and caps, which included regulation of style and materials. Colors were prescribed to represent different fields of learning. Since then, the majority of colleges and universities in the United States, including Auburn, have upheld the code.

GOWNS

Except for a few universities, academic gowns are all black. The bachelor's gown is the simplest of the three types. The master's gown is similar but has sleeves with an extra long extension. Representing the highest degree, the doctoral gown is fuller throughout and has pleated bell-shaped sleeves. It is trimmed with a velvet band that circles the neck and descends the front, and it has velvet bars on the sleeves.

ACADEMIC HOODS

Academic hoods have endured as the sign of a scholar, and increased symbolism through color and material. Master's hoods are edged in velvet in the color of the candidate's major field. The hood's satin lining shows Auburn's official colors. A doctoral hood is longer and larger than the master's. A doctor of philosophy's hood has dark blue velvet-bound edges and the doctor of audiology has green.

The orange and blue satin lining shows that the degree was conferred at Auburn University. The faculty who march in the academic processional show a range of colors marking their diverse fields, degrees and institutions.

The traditional rule for academic hoods is that a candidate for a degree should not wear the hood until the degree is conferred. However, at Auburn, master's degrees are conferred en masse, therefore degree candidates wear hoods throughout the ceremony. Doctoral degree recipients are hooded by their major professor during the ceremony. These candidates do not wear the hood during the academic processional, but receive their hood when the degree is conferred.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

CAPS AND TASSELS

A black mortar board is the typical headwear worn, with some faculty wearing black tams. All caps have tassels. Students earning a bachelor’s degree have tassel colors representing their fields. They begin the ceremony with the tassels on the right front side; after all degrees are conferred, they are instructed to move the tassels to the left side. Faculty and candidates for master’s and doctoral degrees already wear their gold tassels on the left side.

STOLES, CORDS AND MEDALS

In addition to the orange stoles worn by student marshals, some graduates wear regalia signifying academic achievements or membership in organizations, primarily academic honor societies. Students graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude or cum laude wear yellow cords. The Honors College recognizes its graduates with silver medals. Students inducted into Phi Kappa Phi, an honor society incorporating all fields of study, may wear cords of interwoven gold and blue. Some schools and colleges have honor societies unique to their discipline, and students selected for membership wear stoles, cords or medallions representing them. Like hoods, each color and pattern is unique to the honor.

ACADEMIC SYMBOLS

MACE

In ancient Rome, what would later be called a mace was carried at the head of processing civil authorities. By the Middle Ages, the Catholic Church similarly used a mace, which also became associated with the civil authority of monarchies. Today, the United Kingdom's House of Commons still presents a mace to mark the opening of daily sessions being open and legal. The U.S. House of Representatives adopted this practice in 1789, establishing the tradition of the Sergeant at Arms carrying the mace into the chamber to be placed near the Speaker of the House.

As an established symbol of authority, maces in the academic setting were adopted to show that a president represents the governing body of the school. Maces are used in graduation ceremonies to demonstrate that a school has the legal authority to grant degrees. Auburn's mace was created in fall 2015 from the wood of the beloved Auburn Oaks, representing the Board of Trustees' legal authority and linking to a symbol that is laden with meaning to the Auburn Family. The Auburn mace is approximately 42 inches tall and is carried by the macebearer, one of the faculty leaders from the graduation committee.

GONFALONS

Gonfalons are banners that originated in medieval Italy to identify a state or office. At Auburn commencements, each college and school is represented by a unique gonfalon, carried into the ceremony by a student marshal selected from the graduating class. The university gonfalon is carried by the faculty marshal. Additionally, smaller gonfalons stand on the edge of the floor to designate the seating area for each participating college and school.

AUBURN UNIVERSITY – THE HISTORIC HOME OF THE AUBURN FAMILY

Owing much to the past, Auburn's greater debt remains ever to the future.

Auburn University today is a comprehensive land-, sea- and space-grant institution—among the few that hold that distinction—occupying more than 1,840 acres and helping fulfill the dreams of more than 30,000 students. The university began, though, as the small, more humble East Alabama Male College, which was chartered in 1856 and opened its doors in 1859 as a private liberal arts institution. From 1861 to 1866, the college was closed because of the Civil War. The college had begun an affiliation with the Methodist Church before the war. Due to dire financial straits, the church transferred legal control of the institution to the state in 1872, making it the first land-grant college in the south to be established separate from the state university. It then became the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama.

A land-grant college or university is an institution that has been designated by its state legislature or Congress to receive the benefits of the Morrill Acts of 1862 and 1890.

The original mission of these institutions, as set forth in the first Morrill Act, was to teach agriculture, military tactics, mechanical arts, as well as classical studies, so that members of the working classes could obtain a liberal, practical education.

Women were admitted in 1892, making Auburn the oldest four-year, coeducational school in the state and the second-oldest in the Southeast. In 1899, the name was again changed to the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. In 1960, the school officially acquired the name it has long been called and one more in keeping with its location, size and mission—Auburn University. The institution has experienced its greatest growth since World War II, and now has more than 230,000 alumni and over 320,000 degrees awarded.

FALL GRADUATION

To the Class of 2020,

Today marks a great accomplishment in your lives. You and your families have invested a great deal to make your graduation a reality. This is a truly remarkable achievement.

As you make plans toward beginning your career, I sincerely urge you to reap the benefits that come with attaining one of the finest educations available. Earning a college degree does not signal the end of the learning experience. Continue asking questions throughout life and never stop learning.

During your time here, you lived an Auburn experience that was all your own. Those memories of Auburn will become more treasured as the years pass. Wherever you go in life, a part of this great university goes with you. While you are not alone in earning an Auburn degree today, I gladly remind you that you are, and will always be, a member of the Auburn Family.

Congratulations and War Eagle!

ALMA MATER

On the rolling plains of Dixie
'Neath the sun kissed sky
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
Banners high.

To thy name we'll sing thy praise
From hearts that love so true
And pledge to thee our loyalty
The ages through.

We hail thee, Auburn, and we vow
To work for thy just fame,
And hold in memory as we do now
Thy cherished name.

Composed by Bill Wood, 1924
Word Revision, Emma O'Rear Foy, 1960

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

O say can you see,
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed
at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
that our flag was still there.
O say does that star-spangled
banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free
and the home of the brave?

Music by John Stafford Smith, 1780
Lyrics by Francis Scott Key, 1814
Adopted as the national anthem of the United States, 1931

Dr. Harold A. FRANKLIN

On January 4, 1964, Harold A. Franklin became the first African American student to attend Auburn University. His admission followed a lengthy legal dispute as university and state officials coordinated efforts to prevent Franklin’s enrollment because of his skin color.

Dr. Franklin is a native of Talladega, Alabama. As a child, he dreamt of becoming an attorney and following in the footsteps of famed civil rights lawyer Thurgood Marshall. After honorably serving in the Air Force, Franklin enrolled at Alabama State University, wherein 1962, he graduated with honors earning a BA in Government and Psychology. Later that year,

Franklin’s application for admission to Auburn University was denied due to his skin color. Several months later, a federal judge ordered Auburn University to admit Franklin. On January 4, 1964, Franklin registered for classes.

Unfortunately, Franklin’s experience as Auburn’s first black student proved frustrating. The university housed Franklin in a dormitory removed from other students. Most students ignored Franklin. The Department of History faculty resisted his enrollment. Several years later, as Franklin attempted to complete his MA Thesis, his faculty advisers did everything possible to discourage his efforts. Ultimately, Franklin withdrew from Auburn University, convinced that he would never graduate.

Franklin subsequently enrolled at the University of Denver, where he earned a MA degree in International Studies. After returning to Alabama, Franklin began a long influential career as a college educator at Alabama State University, Tuskegee University, and Talladega College. Franklin’s passion for teaching and courage has inspired multiple generations of African American students to follow in his footsteps. On February 16, 2020, Franklin returned to Auburn University and successfully defended his MA Thesis, a history of Alabama State University. Today, in addition to celebrating the completion of his Master’s degree, Franklin challenges us to continue building a more inclusive Auburn University.

I believe in the human touch, which cultivates sympathy with my fellow men and mutual helpfulness and brings happiness for all.

The EAGLES, Education to Accomplish Growth in Life Experiences for Success, initiative is a comprehensive transition program for students with intellectual disabilities housed in the Auburn University College of Education Department of Special Education, Rehabilitation, and Counseling. Students engage in a two or four-year campus experience that provides post-secondary education opportunities and prepares students to become contributing members of society. The non-degreed program focuses on academic enrichment, personal and social skills, independence and integrated work experiences.

EAGLES students participate in university classes, on-campus jobs, volunteer experiences and on-campus collaborations during their time at Auburn. The EAGLES are assisted around campus by Auburn student mentors who are members of the WINGS, Warm-Hearted Individuals Nurturing Great Success program. WINGS peer mentors reside with EAGLES students, support independent living skills, participate in activities with EAGLES students, provide opportunity for connections to other students and support EAGLES in social and community environments.

Students in the EAGLES program learn how to live the Auburn Creed as they prepare for life now and in the future.

"My sisters, parents, grandparents, and great-grandfathers all went to Auburn and I wanted to go too. The EAGLES program gave me the chance to go to Auburn and be in the Auburn Family. I have learned to live independently and have learned job skills for when I graduate. The best part of going to Auburn is making friends and hanging out with them."

-Bradley Basden

"This experience has been the best thing ever. Being the first to be in the EAGLES program meant I was ready to show new EAGLES what it was like to be an Auburn student. What an honor it is to be at Auburn University. War Eagle!"

-Josh Greiner

"It's always been my dream to attend Auburn University. My grandfather, father, and sisters attended Auburn. My dreams came true as I stepped into my Auburn family's footsteps, and being a part of the Auburn family means the whole world to me!"

-Anna Moates

AUBURN UNIVERSITY – THE HISTORIC HOME OF THE AUBURN FAMILY

Chartered in 1856, Auburn University opened in 1859 and became affiliated with the Methodist Church. Throughout the years, the institution has held four official names:

- East Alabama Male College (1856-72)
- Agricultural and Mechanical College (1872-99)
- Alabama Polytechnic Institute (1899-1960)
- Auburn University (1960-present)

Auburn University at Montgomery (AUM) was established as a separately administered branch campus in 1967. The institution has developed rapidly, especially since moving to a 500-acre campus east of Montgomery in 1971. Fall 2019 enrollment at AUM was approximately 5,323.

EMERGENCY PROCEDURES DURING THE CEREMONY

BUILDING EVACUATION

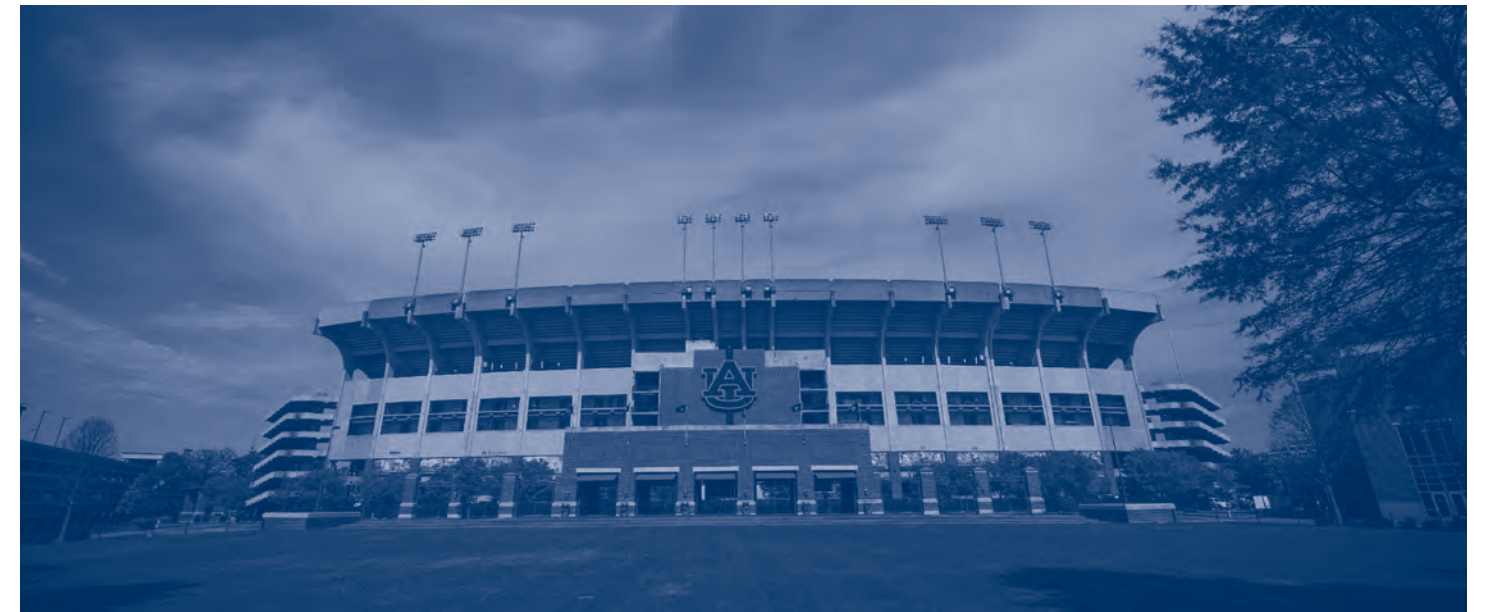

In case of an evacuation, please exit the building through the nearest marked exit door in an orderly and calm fashion. Please be considerate of any persons with disabilities and follow any instructions given by public safety officials.

The ceremony will continue after an "ALL CLEAR" order has been given by public safety officials. Additional announcements will be given as more information is received.

SEVERE WEATHER

Stadium: In the event of severe weather, please exit your seat in an orderly and calm fashion and make your way into the concourse areas. Follow the directions given by public safety officials. Do not leave the stadium until an announcement is made that it is safe to do so. Please be considerate of any persons with disabilities

Arena: Please remain seated. For those of you located on the mezzanine level, please exit your seats in an orderly and calm fashion, and make your way down to the lower-level concourse area. Graduates, please move to the lower concourse area as well. Follow the directions given by public safety officials. Do not leave the arena until an announcement is made that it is safe to do so. Please be considerate of any children and persons with disabilities. The ceremony will continue after we have been given an "ALL CLEAR" order by emergency personnel. Additional announcements will be given as more information is received.

Auburn University is an equal opportunity educational institution/employer.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia worn during graduation is based on attire from the 12th and 13th centuries when universities were being established. Academic dress and accoutrements have been used in higher education in the United States since colonial times. In 1895, an intercollegiate commission adopted a standardized code for the use of academic gowns, hoods, and caps, which included regulation of style and materials. Colors were prescribed to represent different fields of learning. Since then, the majority of colleges and universities in the United States, including Auburn, have upheld the code.

GOWNS

Except for a few universities, academic gowns are all black. The bachelor's gown is the simplest of the three types. The master's gown is similar but has sleeves with an extra long extension. Representing the highest degree, the doctoral gown is fuller throughout and has pleated bell-shaped sleeves. It is trimmed with a velvet band that circles the neck and descends the front, and it has velvet bars on the sleeves.

ACADEMIC HOODS

Academic hoods have endured as the sign of a scholar, and increased symbolism through color and material. Master's hoods are edged in velvet in the color of the candidate's major field. The hood's satin lining shows Auburn's official colors. A doctoral hood is longer and larger than the master's. A doctor of philosophy's hood has dark blue velvet-bound edges and the doctor of audiology has green.

The orange and blue satin lining shows that the degree was conferred at Auburn University. The faculty who march in the academic processional show a range of colors marking their diverse fields, degrees and institutions.

The traditional rule for academic hoods is that a candidate for a degree should not wear the hood until the degree is conferred. However, at Auburn, master's degrees are conferred en masse, therefore degree candidates wear hoods throughout the ceremony. Doctoral degree recipients are hooded by their major professor during the ceremony. These candidates do not wear the hood during the academic processional, but receive their hood when the degree is conferred.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

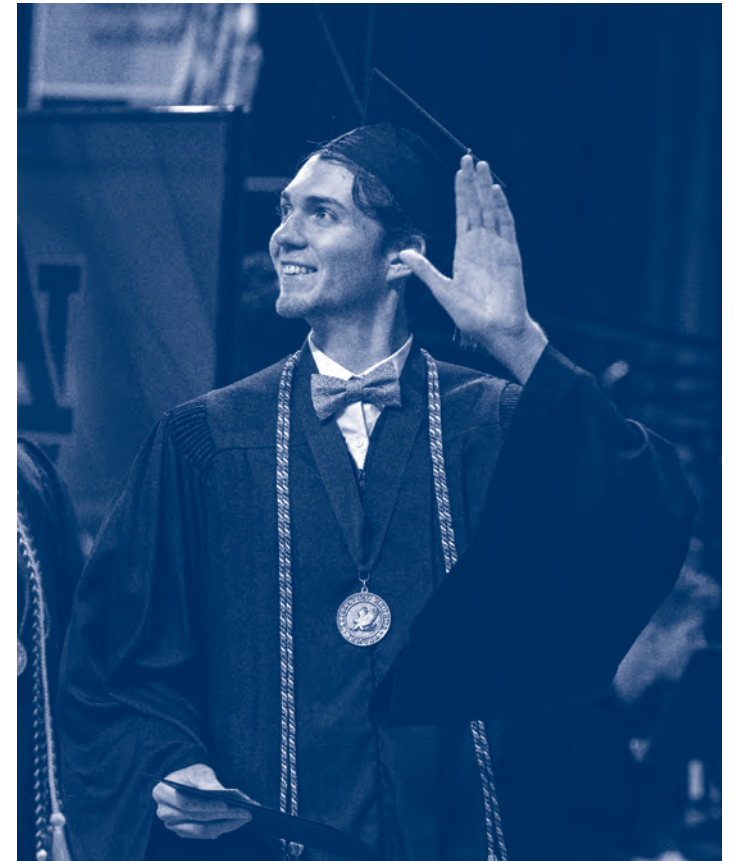

CAPS AND TASSELS

A black mortar board is the typical headwear worn, with some faculty wearing black tams. All caps have tassels. Students earning a bachelor's degree have tassel colors representing their fields. They begin the ceremony with the tassels on the right front side; after all degrees are conferred, they are instructed to move the tassels to the left side. Faculty and candidates for master's and doctoral degrees already wear their gold tassels on the left side.

STOLES, CORDS AND MEDALS

In addition to the orange stoles worn by student marshals, some graduates wear regalia signifying academic achievements or membership in organizations, primarily academic honor societies. Students graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude or cum laude wear yellow cords. The Honors College recognizes its graduates with silver medals. Students inducted into Phi Kappa Phi, an honor society incorporating all fields of study, may wear cords of interwoven gold and blue. Some schools and colleges have honor societies unique to their discipline, and students selected for membership wear stoles, cords or medallions representing them. Like hoods, each color and pattern is unique to the honor.

MACE

In ancient Rome, what would later be called a mace was carried at the head of processing civil authorities. By the Middle Ages, the Catholic Church similarly used a mace, which also became associated with the civil authority of monarchies. Today, the United Kingdom’s House of Commons still presents a mace to mark the opening of daily sessions being open and legal. The U.S. House of Representatives adopted this practice in 1789, establishing the tradition of the Sergeant at Arms carrying the mace into the chamber to be placed near the Speaker of the House.

As an established symbol of authority, maces in the academic setting were adopted to show that a president represents the governing body of the school. Maces are used in graduation ceremonies to demonstrate that a school has the legal authority to grant degrees. Auburn’s mace was created in fall 2015 from the wood of the beloved Auburn Oaks, representing the Board of Trustees’ legal authority and linking to a symbol that is laden with meaning to the Auburn Family. The Auburn mace is approximately 42 inches tall and is carried by the macebearer, one of the faculty leaders from the graduation committee.

GONFALONS

Gonfalons are banners that originated in medieval Italy to identify a state or office. At Auburn commencements, each college and school is represented by a unique gonfalon, carried into the ceremony by a student marshal selected from the graduating class. The university gonfalon is carried by the faculty marshal. Additionally, smaller gonfalons stand on the edge of the floor to designate the seating area for each participating college and school.

Owing much to the past, Auburn’s greater debt remains ever to the future.

Auburn University today is a comprehensive land-, sea- and space-grant institution—among the few that hold that distinction—occupying more than 1,840 acres and helping fulfill the dreams of more than 30,000 students. The university began, though, as the small, more humble East Alabama Male College, which was chartered in 1856 and opened its doors in 1859 as a private liberal arts institution. From 1861 to 1866, the college was closed because of the Civil War. The college had begun an affiliation with the Methodist Church before the war. Due to dire financial straits, the church transferred legal control of the institution to the state in 1872, making it the first land-grant college in the south to be established separate from the state university. It then became the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama.

A land-grant college or university is an institution that has been designated by its state legislature or Congress to receive the benefits of the Morrill Acts of 1862 and 1890.

Old Main

The original mission of these institutions, as set forth in the first Morrill Act, was to teach agriculture, military tactics, mechanical arts, as well as classical studies, so that members of the working classes could obtain a liberal, practical education.

Women were admitted in 1892, making Auburn the oldest four-year, coeducational school in the state and the second-oldest in the Southeast. In 1899, the name was again changed to the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. In 1960, the school officially acquired the name it has long been called and one more in keeping with its location, size and mission—Auburn University. The institution has experienced its greatest growth since World War II, and now has more than 230,000 alumni and over 320,000 degrees awarded.
