Merit Increase and Promotional Increase Guidelines
Main Campus

I. ELIGIBILITY for CONSIDERATION

To be considered for a merit pay increase or promotional pay adjustment, eligible employees, as defined below, must have been hired before April 1, 2022, be actively working on the performance period end date of May 31, 2022 (December 31, 2021 for faculty), and actively working on the effective date of the merit increase (October 1, 2022). For employees who received recent out-of-cycle pay adjustments, supervisors should consider these when developing merit recommendations.

Eligible Employees are those in the following employment categories having a full-time-equivalent (FTE) of greater than or equal to 0.50, and who are not students or temporary employees.

A. Tenure Track Faculty
B. Non-Tenure Track Faculty
C. University Staff (US)
D. Administrative & Professional (A&P)
E. Regular Part-time employees with designated FTE of greater than or equal to (>=) 0.5

II. EFFECTIVE DATES OF PAY ADJUSTMENTS

A. Merit Increases: October 1, 2022
B. Job Family Promotions/Faculty Promotions: October 1, 2022

III. MERIT INCREASE OPPORTUNITY and BASIS FOR RECOMMENDATION

A. Merit-Based Performance Pay: A higher-performing employee should receive a larger percentage merit increase than a lower-performing employee. All merit increases are required to be substantiated by employee performance documentation for both respective performance periods, typically the completed annual performance review. Probationary review forms and other substantiations of performance are acceptable documentation in cases of recently hired and eligible employees. It is the responsibility of each vice president, dean, director, department head, or chair to ensure that documentation is on file to support the recommendations. There is no mandatory, across-the-board increase for any employee group.

B. Total Merit Increase Limit: The total of merit increases for the unit may not exceed 5.0% of the unit’s total salary base as of March 31, 2022.

C. Exceptions Requiring Documentation and Approval: Merit increase recommendations of 0% or greater than 8%, require the completion and submission of Exception Request Forms.

1. AU Human Resources’ Compensation and Employee Relations units review all staff – A&P and US, Exception Request Forms – This is not required if employee is a recent hire, or has been, or will soon be, separated from employment.
2. Interim Provost and VP, Academic Affairs reviews all exceptions within the academic organizational structure.
3. Executive Vice President reviews all exceptions within the non-academic organizational structure.

D. Reflecting “Full” versus “Partial” Year of Performance Activity: For those eligible employees performing for less than the full performance period, supervisors are strongly encouraged to prorate their recommended merit increase percentages, taking into account the portion of performance completed:
number of months employed during the performance period -- June 1, 2021 to May 31, 2022 -- divided by twelve (12) months. Dates pertaining to faculty performance periods are applicable to that group of employees.
