JOB SUMMARY

Provides leadership and coordination for educational outreach and community-engagement programs within the Community and Collegiate Programs division in the College of Human Sciences. Oversees program development, partnership cultivation, event logistics, communications, and budget management to advance the division's mission and expand its impact.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Provides leadership in the design, planning, and implementation of educational and outreach programs within the Community and Collegiate Programs division. Develops strategies to broaden participation, strengthen impact, and enhance program visibility. - Cultivates and manages partnerships with nonprofit organizations, civic leaders, and university stakeholders to support collaborative learning, networking, and community-based initiatives. - Coordinates and executes all program logistics, including registration, scheduling, venue and resource management, and operational support. Maintains accurate and accessible databases for affiliate members, event participants, and key stakeholders. - Monitors program budgets and funding allocations to ensure fiscal responsibility and compliance. Identifies and researches sponsorship opportunities in collaboration with Cary Center leadership and the CHS Advancement team. - Writes, edits, and manages communications across digital and print platforms, including press releases, event programs, marketing materials, sponsor recognition, and social media campaigns to expand program reach and engagement. - Advises and supports the Student Philanthropy Board and Women's Philanthropy Board student initiatives by coordinating educational programming, mentoring opportunities, and service-learning experiences that promote philanthropic literacy among Auburn University students. - Evaluates program effectiveness through participant feedback, data tracking, and outcome measurement. Uses findings to inform strategic planning, reporting, and continuous improvement of future initiatives. - Supervises and mentors student workers, providing guidance, task coordination, and professional development opportunities to enhance student learning and support the division's operations and initiatives.
