JOB FAMILY AND FUNCTION

Job Family:	Academic Services & Administration
Job Function:	Global Initiatives

JOB SUMMARY

The Director of Intercultural Education and Inclusion provides leadership and direction in developing intercultural and inclusive educational programming and partnerships in support of the mission of the Office of International Program.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Creates, oversees, and directs the implementation of customized data-driven internationalization-at-home (IAH) programs and initiatives that integrate international and U.S. based students, faculty, staff and the external community by leveraging strength-based assets and resources to increase cultural proficiency of the entire campus community. Leads short-term study abroad programs, as appropriate.
- Develops and oversees framework, goals, metrics, and assessment of co-curricular and non-credit intercultural and awareness raising programs, including the teaching and learning of non-credit foreign languages and world cultures. Supervises teaching of less commonly taught and studied non-credit languages which are designated as critical need areas by the federal National Security Education Program (NSEP). Responsible for building a database of global language speakers in the campus community, serving as cultural informants or interpreter resources and teaching pools.
- Provides technical leadership and conducts campus climate assessments and surveys to support and expand university focus on internationalization and to address international student acculturation and social challenges. Uses information garnered to innovate and create international learning communities through hands-on workshops, seminars, and town hall discussions around thematic units, intercultural dialogue, and contemporary discourses on just-in-time world issues, promoting a culture of shared understanding and globally engaged citizenship.
- Develops and maintains cross-campus strategic partnerships and collaboration which progressively and strategically move the International Cultural Center as a hub for international students and a forum to provide global exposure and content for the campus community, while advancing university IAH initiatives. Works collaboratively and serves as a resource and strategic partner for faculty and staff for curriculum enrichment, diversity of perspectives, global intercultural competence, and the education and awareness of world cultures, customs, and practices.
- Develops relationships and works collaboratively with campus partners and local community stakeholders to promote global learning and inclusivity inside and outside the classroom, including international student leadership development, mentoring, advocacy and positive social integration. Develops a community bridge program of global ambassadors to provide students, employees, and community members with opportunities to learn about different cultures and share expertise on their own cultures to foster intercultural competence and appreciation within Auburn and with the external community.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Provides operational and managerial oversight of the International Cultural Center as the hub for global education. Supervises several support positions as appropriate including coordinators, academic support specialists, graduate assistants, and student World Cultural Ambassadors toward accomplishment of the goals of the International Cultural Center.
- Performs other duties as assigned.

SUPERVISORY RESPONSIBILITIES
