JOB SUMMARY

The Office of the General Counsel provides advice and counsel to the Auburn University Board of Trustees and senior University administration regarding all areas of University operations. The Office of General Counsel supports Auburn University's mission, defined by the University's land-grant traditions of service and access. The University serves the citizens of the State through its instructional, research and outreach programs, preparing Alabamians to respond successfully to the challenges of a global economy.

The Office of General Counsel maintains a sophisticated and complex practice that touches a wide range of legal areas, including but not limited to federal and state constitutional and public law issues, labor and employment, litigation, public contracting, intellectual property, research and technology transfer, business transactions, construction, administrative law, and public safety. Reporting to the General Counsel, the Staff Counsel will conduct legal research, draft legal memoranda, review and draft contracts, analyze legal issues raised to the Office, and perform other duties and special projects as assigned by the General Counsel.

All Office of General Counsel staff are expected to work with exceptional professionalism, skill, attention to detail, judgment, discretion, and integrity. The Office of General Counsel will maintain a strong commitment to teamwork, inclusiveness, and adaptability to a broad range of issues, people, and situations, inspiring confidence in our clients and the broader University community.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Assists General Counsel in legal matters relating to the University.
- Under the supervision of the General Counsel provides legal assistance to University administrators in matters relating to compliance of University activities with applicable law and established legal precedent.
