JOB SUMMARY

Assists in directing, overseeing and coordinating the day-to-day operations for the Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) outreach programs.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Manages, implements and provides program oversight for all STEM outreach programs. Target audiences include K-12 students, teachers, administrators, and parents of K-12 students.
- Supervises and directs the daily efforts of the unit's staff, volunteers, and paid student workforce necessary to implement the unit's programs, events, and initiatives. Additionally, hires needed contract and TES employees to accomplish unit's goals, particularly for expanded summer program schedule.
- Assists the Director in the formulation of the unit's long-range and strategic plans and leads the development and implementation of program assessment and evaluation. Consults with COSAM faculty and K-12 school personnel to determine needs and develop assessment methods used to develop, design and deliver outreach programs.
- Assists in providing daily administrative oversight of the unit to include forecasting, developing, reconciling and monitoring of the budget; negotiates and interprets contracts with vendors for goods and services.
- Coordinates and plans summer trainings and academic year trainings of professionals and teachers requiring training for program participating (e.g., BEST Robotics, AP Institute, Science in Motion, grant-based programs tied to the unit, etc.). Works with Regional In-Service Center and the AL State Department of Education to document and manage professional development credits for teachers participating in COSAM Outreach sponsored training.
- Develops brochures, flyers, public service announcements, letters, websites, presentations, manuals, and other materials for the effective promotion of COSAM outreach efforts. Uses sound professional judgment on material design, production, and distribution, and exercises fiscal management on marketing activities.
- Generates post-event reports and maintains databases for the department to provide information to various Auburn departments. Assists in the development and delivery of proposals, reports, and professional information and support to other offices and departments. Provides regular status reports on programs to director of unit.
