JOB FAMILY AND FUNCTION

Job Family:	Research
Job Function:	Technology Commercialization & Economic Development

JOB SUMMARY

Reporting to the Vice President for Research & Economic Development, the senior executive responsible for the vision, leadership, management, oversight, and direction of the Auburn Research and Technology Foundation, Auburn Research Park, the Office of Innovation, Advancement, and Commercialization, and the Office of External Engagement and Support.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Serves as the principal executive and advocate for university innovation, commercialization and engagement initiatives by providing leadership, management, guidance, and support across campus by promoting collaboration. Assures the effective and efficient operations of assigned functional areas by providing sound leadership, direction, and support to staff.
- Serves as the Executive Director of the Auburn Research and Technology Foundations (ARTF), which manages the Auburn Research Park and various programs, real estate, and industry contracts for research and service. Promotes the mission of ARTF by growing the research enterprise through new contracts and partnerships, translating applied research into commercialized opportunities and new business ventures.
- Maintains the ARTF Governance Model, including by-laws, Auburn Research Park Covenants, Legal and Financial Oversight, and is responsible for developing rationale for changes made to the model.
- Promotes industry partners including connecting industry to resources at the University, and determines optimal ways to engage industry partners with faculty. Manages partner relationships with stakeholders from businesses and industry, entrepreneurs, nonprofit organizations, trade associations, government agencies, communities and foundations as they seek to access Auburn University expertise, capabilities, business and technical services, as well as innovation, which may serve to generate revenue for the university and benefit the state and regional economy.
- Provides senior leadership and reporting for university intellectual property protection, licensing, and industry contracting through the Office of Innovation Advancement and Commercialization.
- Develops and promotes funding strategies and comprehensive business plan to grow the capital investment needed to support, maintain, and advance Auburn Research Park.
- Responsible for development and execution of the Auburn University Research Park Master Plan.
