JOB SUMMARY

Provides guidance and advice to personnel on the application of US Government export control regulations including the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR), Export Administration Regulations (EAR), Office of Financial Assets Control (OFAC), and other government agencies. This position requires extensive knowledge and application of ITAR, EAR, OFAC, and other regulations for the preparation, implementation and management of export licenses, Technology Control Plans (TCP), and export compliance processes, procedures, and best practices. This position has oversight and reporting responsibilities to the University and government agencies.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Educates and informs staff, faculty, and students on their obligations for the protection and safeguarding of export controlled technology through various forms of presentations, briefings, or inspections on a consistent basis. Researches and develops informative training and educational material related to export control compliance to assist the AU community in understanding the regulations.
- Assists unit management in the development, coordination, and implementation of a rapidly expanding export control program that ensures Auburn University's compliance with US government statutes and regulations related to deemed exports, physical exports, and international matters. Utilizes governmental resources as well as academic peers to develop successful tools to support the long-term growth and expansion of the export control program.
- Determines if contracts/agreements are available to use an exemption/exception for fundamental research. When required, submits license applications as applicable prior to allowing non-US persons access to export controlled technology.
- Evaluates forms and documents to determine if foreign visitor will have access to export controlled technology while they are participating in Auburn University sponsored programs or programs located in Auburn University facilities.
- Coordinates with the Office of Sponsored Programs (OSP)/Innovation Advancement and Commercialization (IAC) assessing proposals, agreements, and contracts to determine if export control or security program requirements are present.
- Develops processes and procedures to oversee the implementation of export control requirements, while also working with AU researchers and administrators.
- Interprets and implements extensive government controlled unclassified security requirements in the export control program for Auburn University. Develops key processes and procedures to ensure the overall success and compliance of the export control program regarding the government requirements through reporting, auditing, training, and other means of accountability.
