JOB SUMMARY

Under general supervision, assesses audio visual technology trends and issues and defines technical solutions to meet the University audio visual technology needs. Performs work that is usually routine and intermittently complex in nature, seeking assistance when guidelines are inadequate or significant deviations are proposed, and solves unanticipated problems independently. Ensures the stability, integrity, and efficient operation of the audio visual systems that support University functions.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Collaborates with functional counterparts to design and develop audio visual configurations and integrated systems. Documents and deploys systems and their integration points. Creates test plans and performs system testing.
- Performs and coordinates the administration and maintenance of University audio visual systems according to University and industry standards. Implements, troubleshoots, and recommends configuration changes to systems and applications to identify, correct, and prevent operational problems.
- Designs and develops audio visual applications and systems.
- Acts as project manager overseeing all aspects of installation, integration, and testing of audio visual systems.
- Maintains, coordinates, and recommends changes to established backup and disaster recovery processes and procedures.
- Creates, evaluates, and recommends plans for the implementation of new technology deployments, system installations, and system integration testing.
- Collaborates with stakeholders to identify audio visual needs and implement improvements. Provides ongoing technical assistance to customers regarding systems and applications. Makes recommendations to stakeholders to increase efficiencies in systems.
- May provide on-call support for designated systems and services.

The responsibilities listed above show the typical duties for jobs in this classification. Actual tasks may differ depending on the department's needs. Other similar duties may be assigned with discretion of the supervisor. Not every duty will apply to every position, and the amount of time spent on each task can change based on department needs.
