JOB FAMILY AND FUNCTION

Job Family:	University Advancement
Job Function:	Donor Relations

JOB SUMMARY

The Stewardship Specialists creates, implements, and administers a comprehensive, centralized program designed to ensure that donors are properly stewarded and informed in all aspects of donor relations including events, gift agreements, engagement, recognition, and reporting on the use and impact of their annual and endowed funds, in support of efforts to cultivate long-term loyalty and commitment of donors while ensuring Auburn fulfills its fiduciary and stewardship responsibilities to donors. The Stewardship Specialist executes one or more of the following phases of the donor relations process to include events, gift agreements, reporting, engagement, and recognition.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- May lead the daily operation of the agreement routing process for Auburn Advancement. This includes advising development staff to ensure agreements represent donor intent while enforcing Auburn University policies and procedures, the initial routing through the Agreements Committee, and signature routing of donors and AU/AUF officials.
- May create comprehensive university-wide stewardship reports and/or events for major donors. Produces best-in-class centralized comprehensive impact reports to provide fiduciary and stewardship accountability for all funds through the aggregation of complex, sensitive, and confidential data from multiple sources (Financial Aid, University Scholarships, Endowment Management, faculty, staff, and students) to disseminate the data in a precise and orderly manner.
- May conceptualize, implement, and administer integrated and comprehensive donor relations activities in support of efforts to cultivate long-term loyalty of donors through recognition societies, engagement, and stewardship activities. Demonstrates due accountability, gratitude, recognition, and responsiveness to Auburn's donors, including all donor groups (individuals, corporations, foundations) and key segments within each (major donors, estate donors, loyalty donors, alumni, parents, friends, etc).
- May serve as the liaison for the Office of Development to the Endowment Investment Office, Development Accounting, University Scholarships, Financial Aid, Business Office, Office of the President, and Office of the Executive Vice President for gift agreements, reporting, fund audit and fund compliance.
- Conducts training with development staff and other partners to educate and ensure proper agreement, recognition, stewardship, and spending practices avoid risk-management issues. Conducts annual analysis of processes and documents.
- Works closely with team leaders to organize and review data to facilitate decision-making in support of engagement and stewardship strategies. Identifies and implements best practices to ensure that agreements, engagement, recognition, and reporting are in keeping with national standards and meet donor expectations.
- Ensures stewardship requirements are accurately recorded in the database utilized by the Office of Development and others.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- The nature of this role is highly externally focused, requiring frequent travel and meetings on and off campus during regular and non-traditional business hours, and is therefore expected to operate with high-levels of autonomy.

SUPERVISORY RESPONSIBILITIES

Supervisory Responsibility: May be responsible for training, assisting or assigning tasks to others. May provide input to performance reviews of other employees.
